Bernie I will miss you so much, thank you my friend for everything you've been such a blessing in my life and I'm still having a hard time thinking I will never hear your voice again or our calls that we would talk forever laughing, crying, or even joking about each other..wish I could talk to you one more time. Spread your wings and fly high and remember to save a place for me its not good-bye it's i will see you on the other side..Rest in peace my friend. You will never be forgotten. Love you 🥹 always and forever your friend.
