

Dwight DeWitt Cobb Jr

December 12, 1946 - March 24, 2020

Dwight DeWitt Cobb Jr, age 73, passed away on March 24, 2020 at the University of Utah Hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah due to a cerebral hemorrhage. He was born on December 12, 1946 in Stockton, California to Adrine Evelyn Donnelly Cobb and Dwight (Bob) DeWitt Cobb Sr. He currently resided in West Wendover, Nevada and prior to that in Elko and Carlin, Nevada. Dwight's faith in the Lord Jesus Christ was very strong. He studied God's word daily and shared the word with others in his past years. Dwight's favorite quote, besides various scriptures, was, "I'm getting better looking everyday."

He is survived by his mother Adrine Cobb of Gresham, Oregon.

A Celebration of Life will be held at Western Range Cowboy Church, 885 Pueblo Blvd, West Wendover, Nevada 89883 at some time in the future due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

In lieu of flowers the family asks donations be made to the Western Range Cowboy Church at the address above.

Arrangements are under the direction of Wiscombe Memorial.

“ I met Dwight a couple of years ago when he was preparing to move from Carlin to West Wendover. Dwight would come over to Elko once a month and I always looked forward to our visits. He had so many stories of his days in the mining industry. He was a warm, gentle man and I was very saddened to hear of his passing. He often expressed his love and admiration for his mother. My condolences to Dwight's friends and family.
