“ I was thinking about Ethan today. We were really good friends as teenagers. Unfortunately we lost contact as we got older, but I always thought fondly of our conversations and adventures. I am deeply saddened and heartbroken to see that he has made the journey to the other side. I hope you are well over there, my friend.

I think about you everyday! Please forgive me for the things I got wrong. You and your siblings are the most precious gifts I have ever received in my life.

Eth,

I am sorry I haven't been here for a little bit, but you are constantly on my mind. Aiden and I are at the extended stay until our home in Texas is finished. You would love where we are going and I am just not ready to leave you here in Utah, so I am taking you on a road trip, I hope you understand me being selfish. I can't believe it has almost been 2 years.

My heart and soul broke the day you left this earth. You fought a good fight and still had that sweet soul. I know you are no longer being challenged with earthly tests. I know you are on an amazing mission. I am not the same person but I am trying so hard to be the mother you and your siblings deserve. You all are the greatest and most amazing and I have been truly blessed to be your mom. I miss your smile and laugh and how it didn't matter where we were, you always smiled and gave me the biggest hug when you would first see me. I miss the calls where you would just call to see how I was and the times you had a feeling that you needed to call. Our spirits will always be connected.

I love you Eth!

Hey Eth, I keep waiting to hear "oh hey" but it never comes. I honestly thought 2021 was going to be a different kind of year, but I guess my mom had other plans and wanted to see you sooner than later. I told her to tell you I love you and give you a hug. Aiden got another tattoo on the anniversary of your death and it was the saying "i love my momma" and he did it for you and me because that's what you would always say. He is trying to step up and become my new wing man. I love you and miss your laughter, your smile and the way your eyes lit up everytime you would smile.Mom

Ethan, no mother could have asked for a better son.

If love could have saved you....you would have lived forever....

Just one more time I wish.

I could hear your voice...

Unfortunately, life hasn't given me that choice...

I feel lost and dazed....

In memories, I seek solace....

For your hugs and laughter, will forever....

Be my happy place....

RIP son.....

“ Ethan, you chose to grow up as an unchained soul. You were determined to set and decide your own path and outcomes. I am so grateful to have been included in your journey.

Eth, you will be missed to a degree that cannot be explained or expressed with any emotion or explanation. I think a few of the things I will miss the most is your contagious laugh, compassion and empathy for others.

You will always be an amazing son who I am so proud of. Until we meet again....

All of my love,

Mom

My condolences to the Roach family. I'm so sorry for your loss may you be comforted in this difficult time. I had hoped to had more time with Ethan. My heart aches with his short time here on this earth. I wish things were different. I am grateful for the time I was able to spend with him a few years ago when he reached out to us Jones's. I love you Ethan you will be so missed!
